

Fuerteventura

Corralejo Fuerteventura (north)

Corralejo is the main tourist resort in the north of Fuerteventura. Originally a fishing harbour, Corralejo plays host to thousands of holiday makers each year. The town, although now quite spread, edges its fine villas and apartments along the winding coast-line to the magnificent clothes optional white beaches and dunes. Corralejo is a magnet for nightlife and a variety of cuisine. Watersports plays an important part in this region.

Naturist Friendly Villas

- ◆ Villas located in residential areas with varying degrees of privacy
- ◆ Suitable for naturist use with discretion
- ◆ Short drive from naturist clothes optional beaches

Fuerteventura is well known for its amazing white powder sand beaches and crystal blue seas reminiscent of the Caribbean. Most beaches away from the town and resorts centres are clothes optional where nudity is tolerated.

The main areas are around the dune areas of Corralejo, El Cotillo and in the south around the Jandia area.

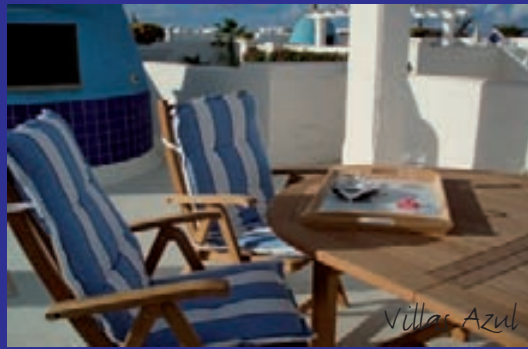

Casa Marlin

Casa Marlin

Situated on the outskirts of Corralejo in a quiet cul de sac CASA MARLIN is a two bedroom, two bathroom villa enjoying spectacular uninterrupted views of the Ocean, Lanzarote and Isla de Lobos.

It has its own private pool, roof terrace and is superbly furnished and equipped. The famous sand dunes are a ten minute walk away whilst Corralejo town centre with all its shops and restaurants is a twenty minute stroll along the beach. A small supermarket is only a two minute walk away however if you are planning on hiring a car to explore further then you can take advantage of the larger supermarkets in town. The pool and terrace can be used nude with discretion.

Villas Azul

Here is the ultimate secluded dream villa with everything that you could possibly want. It sleeps 6 people comfortably and all three bedrooms are fully air conditioned and have ensuite bathrooms. Where else can you get ...a palm tree island right in the middle of your own swimming pool, a Jacuzzi for six under the stars with underwater lighting, a barbecue on the roof terrace with a full dining area in the shade, a luxury lounge to chill in with DVD system and plasma screen next to your broadband point. Here the climate is warm and pleasant all the year round, and the sand dune beaches are the whitest and cleanest you've ever seen. There's a buzz in the nearby port of Corralejo boasting modern shops, lively bars and everything at your fingertips. The villa itself lies in a walled estate with gate security, and is part of the protected "Parque Natural" with stunning views. From the roof terrace you can see the nearby islands of Lanzarote and Los Lobos, and the crystal clear sea has a refreshing breeze throughout the day. On the villa estate there is a supermarket, sauna, gym, coffee shop and restaurant.

Gallery

Gallery

Gallery

This is truly the most unusual and spacious studio to come on the market for tourism in Fuerteventura. The living area spans over 45 sq. metres (the normal living area for a two bedroom apartment on a complex) and the terrace, gardens and pool exclusively for the studio are on a piece of land more than 40 sq. metres.

The strong features of this property are:

- ◆ Spacious living area for two people and an alternative sleeping area in the lounge for a third
- ◆ Colourful surroundings both inside and out, boasting mature Canarian style gardens
- ◆ Large swimming pool, normally seen on a complex for ten to fifteen people, exclusively for the use of the studio.
- ◆ Total seclusion for the naturist sunbather.
- ◆ Fifteen metres from the waters edge on the foot of the dunes beach.
- ◆ Only a fifteen to twenty minute stroll to Corralejo and less than a five minute walk to the start of the dunes beach.

- ◆ Set in beautiful gardens designed by the artist who created the art gallery it is connected to.

The accommodation consists of: From the main road leading to Corralejo in a very residential area there is a private gate from an access area, which leads to the waterfront. This gate leads into the garden and pool area of the property, which has a pool 8 metres by 3 metres, surrounded by a terraced garden and patio area, furnished with patio table, chairs and sunloungers.

The front door of the property is to the side of the terrace and leads directly into the Lounge-this is a large room with dining table and four chairs, sofa and two easy chairs. There are three steps leading up to the sleeping area, which has two single beds, small built in wardrobe. There is a Japanese style-folding screen to make the area private from the lounge. The bathroom has a bath with overhead shower, toilet, washbasin and bidet. There is a small separate kitchen area with an under unit fridge, two cooking rings, kettle and toaster. Throughout the accommodation there is a Spanish feel to the decor and tradition mixes with comfort. This is an ideal place for seclusion and privacy from the normal hustle and bustle of tourism.

A very unique property converted from the Art Gallery museum next to the popular "Gallery" just a few metres from the sea front. This one bedroom property is in secluded gardens and can be used in conjunction with the Gallery if two couples want to be together but with their own private space. Situated on the outskirts of Corralejo close to the sand dunes and white sand beaches. Expect unusual works of art like the iron dining table, paintings and sculptures. This like the Gallery is not your usual holiday complex apartment but very different.

The lounge has top-of-the-range two and three seater sofa beds, satellite TV, DVD, hi-fi, broadband point, play station, and recessed lighting. The dining room seats six people comfortably.

bedroom has two quality single beds and en suite bathroom. The sofa beds in the lounge can be used for extra sleeping.

The American-style kitchen is fitted with modern appliances including multi-oven, fridge, hob, freezer and dishwasher....and every other item you'd expect in a millionaire's playground - although the washing machine is located on the roof. There are three bedrooms ~ two have double beds, dressing room and en suite bathrooms. The third

The sun terrace around the pool has high quality loungers and comfortable patio furniture. Outside, stylish pergolas and planters around the pool area and on the full roof-terrace combine to create areas that are as beautiful as they are functional, whilst inside the clever design makes use of every square foot, thus giving spacious living areas.

El Cotillo

El Cotillo is the only protected fishing harbour on Fuerteventura's wild and beautiful west coast, and it has preserved its typical Canarian flair.

The beach south of the village with its great waves is excellent for surfers and windsurfers, naturists also favour this wide open beach.

To the north of the village lies the beautiful blue lagoons with white sand beaches. The water here is so peaceful it is ideal for families.

El Cotillo itself is dominated by the simple life of the local fishermen, providing fresh fish for the various bars and restaurants. Enjoy the typical Canarian cooking and one of the most impressive sunsets on the Atlantic Ocean.

The town is small and rustic with comparatively few tourist amenities (although there are thirteen restaurants and two well stocked supermarkets).

El Balcon Apts

A beach front complex of one bedroom apartments situated beside a calm lagoon fringed with a white sandy beach. The beaches are naturist friendly.
